

10.7.  $v_a = v_b = v_c$ . They each start with the same kinetic energy and they each have the same change in potential energy, so they end with the same kinetic energy and, thus, the same speed.